

Security Support Services

Overview

Security Support Services are designed to supplement organizations' security expertise. By adding security expertise, at various levels from technical to executive, organizations can conduct a variety of security analyses concerning risk management in business programs, product selections and corporate services.

Benefits

It is important that executive information regarding operation of the business, mergers and acquisitions, personnel, etc., be prudently protected. Simple techniques and deliberate attention to this matter can save a company from embarrassing and costly incidents such as data security breaches and disruption of critical business processes. By allowing Emagined Security's Security Support Services assist you, you can mitigate potential risks associated with sensitive data and critical business processes, reduce risk and increase awareness of vulnerabilities.

Being proactive is the key to a successful risk management effort. Emagined Security's Security Support Services can help save your company time and money by proactively assessing and improving your security programs. In addition, by using Emagined Security's Security Support Services, your organization can obtain the most accurate and unbiased evaluation of your strengths and weaknesses in the information security arena.

Description of Service

Emagined Security's Security Support Services include a variety of technical security analyses of programs, products and services, as your organization deems necessary. Emagined Security's Security Support Services can interview key personnel and review security services, products, and networks. Security Support Services include the following:

- Project Management
- Resource Augmentation
- Web Application Development
- Implementation Services
- Analytics & Automation
- Security Reviews and Assessments